Summer Change

BY BEVERLY MILLER • PRESIDENT@INMANPARK.ORG

Some changes are happening this summer.

Alex Kronmeyer, who has served four years as our tireless Advocator editor, is stepping down. Alex has done a phenomenal job! She is looking forward to finding new ways to continue her service to IPNA. Meanwhile, she's helping with the transition.

So please join me in extending a big IPNA welcome to our new editor, Carla Jeffries. Carla and her family have lived in their 100-year-old shotgun house in Inman Park for about 10 years. She works for the CDC and has a lovely husband and adorable four-year-old, as well as lots of dogs and cats. Stay tuned for some possible changes ahead for the Advocator!

In other news, the Little 5 Alliance has produced a draft of its bylaws. Al Caproni, IPNA's representative on the L5PA Board of Directors along with Chris Curley, has taken a very active role in helping to formulate the bylaws. Now your input is needed! Please go to the IPNA web site to read the bylaws and be ready to discuss them at this month's meeting. IPNA will vote at our July meeting on their ratification.

Growth is also afoot at Krog Street Market. IPNA members will recall that we worked with Perimeter Properties during the original re-development process.

Six months ago, however, IPNA received complaints from neighbors about delivery trucks and ride shares blocking public rights of way and KSM visitors' cars parked on residential streets. The Board contacted KSM's new owners, Asana Partners of Charlotte, North Carolina, expressing the neighborhood's frustrations. Asana has come back with some proposed solutions which also involve developing the gravel lot at the corner of Krog and Lake and constructing a new building next door to the food hall where the current metal building now stands. Asana Partners has sought IPNA's input during the early planning stages, so there have been initial meetings with IPNA Board members and with the most immediate neighbors. Asana is currently planning to present their project at the June IPNA meeting, so please come and give your thoughts!

Who said summer is a slow season?

"I've bought and sold four houses with Cynthia - and I truly couldn't recommend her more! Cynthia sold both of my homes in Candler Park for well above asking price and helped me buy two under asking price. She is a talented negotiator, but never pushy - she really listens to her clients and at the same time has incredible instincts for the market"

Other Happenings to Note

Juneteenth Celebration - Showing of "Black Panther"

June 19, 6:30 pm • Carter Presidential Library & Museum Theater

<https://www.jimmycarterlibrary.gov/events>

The Carter Library is celebrating Juneteenth—commemorating the end of slavery in the United States—with a public screening of the acclaimed film "Black Panther" filmed right here in the beautiful City of Atlanta!

Decatur Beach Party

June 21, 5:00 pm -11:00 pm • Downtown Decatur

<https://decaturdba.com/events/decatur-beach-party/>

Don't be a hater, Decatur might not be greater, but their Beach Party is fantastic-ater! They make a huge beach with 80 tons of sand right in the middle of Ponce, which you kinda have to respect.

I See You: 50 Years After Stonewall

June 22, 3:00 pm & 8:00 pm • St. Luke's Episcopal Church

<http://www.voicesofnote.org/event/i-see-you/>

Presented by The Atlanta Gay Men's Chorus. Commemorating the 50th Anniversary of the Stonewall Riots, I See You: 50 Years After Stonewall pays tribute to brave activists from diverse ethnic, racial, sexual, and gender identity backgrounds. Together, they ended the silence with their voices, their actions, and the coming together of a liberation movement. This concert weaves a story through LGBTQIA history, recounting the struggle of early activists who sacrificed to protest police brutality and unjust treatment of a marginalized community.

Stranger Than The 80s Pub Crawl

June 29, 4:00 pm -7:00 pm • Diesel Filling Station

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/stranger-than-the-80s-pub-crawl-atlanta-ga-tickets-56012172917>

If you love the 1980s, horror, and Stranger Things...this is for you. Encompassing multiple pubs in Atlanta's Virginia-Highland, as well as an 80s based costume contest and different 80s-based photo ops with themed shots/drinks.

Costumes HIGHLY encouraged!

Weird Al Yankovic: The Strings Attached Tour 2019

June 30, 8:00 pm • Chastain Park • <http://weirdal.com/tour>

Creating the events column means I get to pick and choose from my favorite things. Now that I'm the editor of the entire Advocate, I feel even more empowered. All this to say that Weird Al Yankovic is playing Chastain Park, it's a full orchestral tour, he is amazing, and you all need to go. Table setup so you can bring coolers and wine and have an incredible time with this musical genius. I will brook no opposition here.

Atlanta ComicCon

July 12 - 14 • Georgia World Congress Center • <https://atlantacomiccon.com>

Embrace your nerdiness at Atlanta's #1 family-friendly, comic convention. Free admission for kids! Comic books, toys, cards, games, artwork, cosplay, apparel, guest creators, celebrity guests—it's all here! Whether you are a hardcore collector or a casual pop-culture admirer, Atlanta Comic Con is a fun time for all!

Attack of the Killer Tomato Festival

July 14, 1:00 pm - 5:00 pm • JCT Kitchen & Bar • <http://www.killertomatofest.com/>

Join Chef Ford Fry for the 11th annual Attack of the Killer Tomato Festival! Enjoy tomato-based treats from dozens of chefs and mixologists and live music from The Spazmatics as well as Ford Fry's chef band, The Foo'd Fighters! This event benefits Georgia Organics, so your admission of $75 goes to a good cause.

Inspiritus Seeks Families for New Thrive! Host Home Program

Inspiritus, formerly Lutheran Services of Georgia, has launched a new program focused on ending youth homelessness in Atlanta. The first program of its kind in Georgia, the Thrive! Youth Host Home program provides supportive, short-term housing in residential homes for youth ages 18-24 experiencing homelessness.

The Thrive! Youth Host Home program creates welcoming spaces for youth experiencing homelessness to live safely in a home setting for up to nine months while they work toward transitioning into permanent housing. The program places special emphasis on being inclusive and supportive of youth who identify as LGBTQ and youth who have aged out of foster care. In addition to housing, youth in the program will receive ongoing support, including education and employment assistance and other case management services. Youth referrals will be coordinated through City of Atlanta's coordinated entry system.

Inspiritus is currently seeking compassionate individuals and families in the Metro-Atlanta area who are interested in opening their hearts and their homes to youth experiencing homelessness. For more information on getting involved with Thrive! Youth Host Homes, visit weinspirit.org/thrive or contact Inspiritus Youth Host Home recruiter Fran Patrick at fran.patrick@weinspirit.org

Solar Power Comes to Degress Avenue

By STEVE STERN · STEVE@STEVE-KARIN.COM

Last year, my wife and I started exploring the possibility of converting our home to solar power.

We had a couple of reasons driving this decision. We wanted to reduce our dependence on Georgia Power. And we liked the idea of relying on a sustainable, green energy source.

We were also interested in taking advantage of a generous federal subsidy. For installations in 2018 and 2019, investing in a home solar solution would earn a 30% tax credit.

We began by exploring a crowd-sourcing program for implementing solar power called Solarize Atlanta. With this program, the cost of a solar installation depended on how many systems were sold during the program's duration. The cost savings from bulk purchasing the equipment would be shared between participants.

In order to better understand potential costs and benefits, we needed to track our normal daytime and nighttime power consumption. This data enabled us to calculate the number of panels required to power our home and determine if there was enough roof space to install them.

Armed with this information, we began contacting vendors and got three estimates. We also networked with several homeowners who had recently installed solar to discuss their experiences with their selected vendors. We learned whether they were happy with their choices, and if they had run into any limitations or other concerns.

Ultimately, we chose not to participate in the Solarize Atlanta program and selected a reputable vendor with strong customer references. Working with our provider, permission from the UDC and other permitting agencies was obtained. On January 30, our panels were installed and went live.

Even with shorter days in the winter, we immediately began generating enough power (on sunny days) to exceed our electricity requirements during the daytime hours. Now, three months later, with much longer days, we are producing even more excess power that is being sent back to Georgia Power.

The final step in our project will be to install a back-ordered Tesla battery (anticipated for early this summer). Once the battery is operational, we expect to have enough stored power to fulfill most of our overnight electricity needs, too.

To take advantage of the 30% federal subsidy, a contract needs to be signed with a vendor before the end of 2019. Starting in 2020, and in each subsequent year, the government subsidy percentage will decrease.

Please feel free to contact me (at steve@steve-karin.com) if you're interested in more detail or would like to come see our system.

Good to Know

Inman Park Neighborhood Association

(IPNA) membership: Available to those who live within or own property within the boundaries of Inman Park. Membership is $5 with online registration at inmanpark.org. Membership allows you to vote (see bylaws online for details), gives you access to the directory and makes you eligible for special neighborhood events. In addition to being a member of IPNA, you may register for the Inman Park Security Patrol (IPSP) which staffs off-duty Atlanta Police officers to patrol our neighborhood. There are four levels of commitment starting at $50 per year.

IPNA meetings are held at 7:30 p.m. on the 3rd Wednesday of each month at the Trolley Barn.

IPSP membership is based upon a rolling annual membership term. Your renewal date is one year from your membership date and again every year after that.
