President's Message

Support those who support IPNA!

By Beverly Miller • President@inmanpark.org

Welcome to the new Inman Park Advocator! This isn't just any neighborhood newsletter. It is the official mouthpiece of IPNA (along with our web site, on which the Advocator is also published). If you're an IPNA member, you should by now have had the electronic edition of the newsletter delivered right to your email in-box. And if you're not a member, you can go to InmanPark.org and join right now for just $5.00!

We have had an incredible show of support from local merchants who understand the value of reaching out to our neighborhood through the Advocator. Now it's up to all of us to show them our support!

They stepped up and bought ads, making our self-funding Advocator dream a reality. Now it's your turn! Please get out and patronize all of the local businesses who are advertising with us. And when you do, be sure to thank them for placing an ad in the Advocator. We couldn't make it without their support! All of the ad revenue goes right back into publishing the Advocator.

Lots of work has gone into the production of this new in-house publication. Many thanks to our fearless Advocator Editrix Carla Jeffries; to our publisher, IPNA member Darcel Stewart; to Cristy Lenz, IPNA web site manager and ad purveyor extraordinaire; to our skilled sales duo, Communications VP Melissa Miller and Advocator Committee member (and Historic Preservation VP) Sara Wittich; to our graphic designer, Jessica Riley; and to all of you readers who are out there helping further our ad sales.

There is still ad space for 2020, and Advocator ads are now available for purchase into 2021. If you own a local business, please see the information in this issue on how to buy an ad. Readers, as you patronize our sponsors, please take along the rate sheet included in this Advocator and invite still more local merchants to advertise with us. We offer 50% off the base rate for non-profit organizations.

As you kick off this election year, get ready for a timely and informative pre-meeting session in February. Senator Nan Orrock will join us at 6:30

P.M. on February 19 for a special IPNA screening of the new 30-minute short film Suppressed: The Fight to Vote. This documentary by Robert Greenwald investigates the events that transpired right here in Georgia during the 2018 midterm elections. The film is 30 minutes in length. Afterwards, from 7:00 to 7:30 P.M., Nan will stick around to lead a discussion about voting rights. State election officials will also be on hand with some of our new voting machines to give a demonstration of how they work. What better way to start this election year off right?

Happy New Year, Inman Park, and I'll see you at 7:30 the evening of January 15 for our next IPNA meeting!

Local Meetings to Address L5P Nightclub

Crave, the nightclub operating at 1126 Euclid Avenue, has asked to come before the Little Five Points Business Association in January as they begin to pursue the issuance of a permanent liquor license. Their temporary license expires in early February. There are indications that their attorney, Ed Rucker, may also ask to come before IPNA at our January 15 meeting. IPNA has received word that he expects Crave's application to be voted against overwhelmingly by the members present at the L5P and Inman Park meetings, and also to be voted down by the board of NPU-N. There are also indications that Crave's attorney then intends to proceed anyway to the Atlanta License Review Board meeting in the first half of February to ask that local opposition to Crave be disregarded and to ask the License Review Board to approve his client's flawed liquor license application, just as they did for the same client a few years ago for Escobar on Peters Street.

There have been many complaints from Inman Park neighbors regarding this club's extremely late operating hours and the loud noise from Crave. IPNA will keep members informed about the status of the application. Please watch for the January IPNA agenda and be ready to come to the January 15 IPNA meeting and voice your opinion. We will also need neighbors to turn out for the NPU-N meeting and for the License Review Board Meeting, and we'll keep you informed regarding those dates and times. Neighbors around Crave have called police multiple times regarding the noise. As Public Safety VP Kevin Curry pointed out, these complaints should be on record and should have a bearing on the approval process. Any documentation neighbors can supply at the meetings will be helpful.

Other Happenings to Note

The Harlem Globetrotters

January 19 • State Farm Arena • <https://www.harlemglobetrotters.com/markets/atlanta>

The one, the only, Harlem Globetrotters! You want dunks, they got dunks. Take a small child and blow their mind with the hijinks.

MLK Day 5K Drum Run

January 20 • Piedmont Park • <https://mlkday5k.com>

How about a run with a 3.1 mile drumline all along the race course? Pretty motivating! The race t-shirt is pretty cool looking and you get matching gloves because it's pretty cold out for a run, honestly. Register at the website above.

Stellaluna

January 21 - March 8 • Center for Puppetry Arts • <https://puppet.org/programs/stellaluna/>

This is such a sweet story--a little lost fruit bat finds new friends and bats and birds learn to love one another. You just know the Puppetry Arts people will really do the story justice and make all the flying critters very engaging for kids.

Trains! Trains! Trains!

January 25 & 26 • Southern Museum of Civil War and Locomotive History • <https://www.southernmuseum.org/upcoming-events>

I'm skewing pretty kid-friendly with my events round-up this month, I know. But it's cold out and this is a really good idea for a weekend activity! The museum is celebrating the 10th anniversary of this trainspalooza, with a new LEGO train building challenge and lots of ways for visitors to interact with (and even operate!) a bunch of trains.

The Metropolitan Opera National Council Auditions

February 2 • Spivey Hall • <https://www.clayton.edu/spiveyhall/>

Promising young vocalists from four states sing opera arias before a panel of expert judges, competing to advance to the National Auditions finals on the stage of New York's famed Metropolitan Opera. An exciting highlight of every concert season, this annual event is not to be missed by opera fans. Catch a rising star!

African American Grounds Tour

February 11 • Oakland Cemetery • <https://oaklandcemetery.com/event/free-african-american-grounds-tours>

Join a free, hour-long walking tour of the final resting places of Atlanta luminaries, including Carrie Steele Logan, founder of Atlanta's first orphanage for African American children; William Finch, one of Atlanta's first African American city councilmen; Bishop Wesley John Gaines and Julia A. Gaines, pastor and First Lady of Big Bethel A.M.E. Church; and Maynard Jackson, Atlanta's first African American mayor. The tour is free, but you must register ahead of time (above website).

Arlo Guthrie

March 5 • Variety Playhouse • <http://variety-playhouse.com/>

Usually I don't put events in this far in advance but I know this will sell out, so here's your advance notice to go obtain tickets for Arlo Guthrie at the Variety.

New IP Security Patrol Truck Turns Heads and Corners

By Yr. Editrix • advocator@inmanpark.org

Finally, our security patrol has a new vehicle! After much consultation, IPNA purchased a brand-new, shiny "bright white" Toyota Tacoma, extended cab, as the new IP Security Patrol vehicle. Updated graphics were installed and, of course, include the IP butterfly logo. Kevin Curry, IPNA's Public Safety VP, reports that the patrol officers are thrilled with the new vehicle. The Tacoma replaced the old 2007 Crown Vic (purchased in 2012) because the Crown Vic "blew a head gasket" in July. The new Tacoma could not be purchased immediately following this tragic event because we were out of the normal budget cycle. Officers generously drove their personal vehicles while we did not have an operating vehicle, which is probably why you are wondering where the patrol car has been these past few months. We expect the Tacoma to give IPNA many years of reliable, visible service. Give them a thumbs-up when you see them rolling around the 'hood, and if you have a toddler with you, be sure to say "Look, A TRUCK!"

Hello from the L5PCAC

By David Shorter • director@l5pcc.org

Greetings from the Little Five Points Center for Arts and Community (L5PCAC). Most people know us as the Community Center. The Center building is celebrating 101 years of existence in the Inman Park community. Starting out as the Moreland Elementary School, the building has evolved into a Community Center that is open to everyone who may want to get involved with one of our resident partner organizations. When it was leased to WRFG 89.3 FM (the international community radio station housed in the Center) in 1984, the building began to change, as more tenants moved their offices and businesses here, many of whom have been housed here for nearly 35 years.

You can learn more about the facility through our web page at www.l5pcac.org. One of the organizations which houses in the building is Homes of Light a nonprofit agency that has assisted over 750 individuals to become self sufficient through employment programs called Alliance Employment. As a way of generating revenue to support this wonderful program, Homes of Light has started a junk removal service called Alliance. If you or anyone you know needs to remove items (junk) you may want to give them a call at (404) 793-3163 or visit alliancejunkremoval.org. All proceeds from each removal go towards supporting the housing and employment programs.

Speak for the Trees: Best Trees of 2019

By Jim Abbot • abbot.jim@gmail.com

As I write, critics are naming the best films, books, and dating apps of 2019. Not to be left out, I present you with my picks for best neighborhood trees of the year!

10. Sugarberry (Celtis laevigata) in Freedom Park, between Sinclair and N. Highland. Co-champion for this species in the ATL, this tree's gracefully cascading lower branches had to be trimmed recently to discourage camping.

9. Southern Red Oak (Quercus falcata), 954 Dekalb. Years ago, it was slated for removal due to construction at Marble Lofts. A heroic homeowner saved it.

8. Sourwood (Oxydendrum arboreum) in Springvale Park near the north steps. This is a personal favorite for its blocky bark and extraordinary fall color: eye-popping crimson.

7. Dawn Redwood (Metasequoia glyptostroboides), 803 Lake. With a history reaching back to the dinosaurs, this supposedly extinct species was rediscovered in the 1940s.

6. Willow Oak (Quercus phellos), behind 951 Edgewood. This is a monster tree, folks, and getting bigger every minute.

5. Weeping Katsuras (Cercidiphyllum japonicum), 956 Euclid. Easily the most elegant trees in the 'hood.

4. White Oak (Quercus alba), 100 Waverly Way. Classic cottage + stately shade tree = absolute perfection.

3. Water Oak (Quercus nigra), 320 N. Highland. It's 14 feet in circumference, and it's way prettier than a parking deck.

2. Live Oaks (Quercus virginiana), 145 Elizabeth. Joel Hurt dearly loved this species, despite its not being native to the Piedmont. More than a century later, these are our "signature" trees.

Nominate a Deserving Neighbor for the Joel Award

The Joel Award is a long-running award that recognizes neighbors and friends of our neighborhood who have gone above and beyond to make Inman Park a special place to live, work, and play. These awards will be presented at Butterfly Ball 2020 on April 24, 2020.

Do you know someone who has made a special impact? Submit your nomination to advocator@inmanpark.org with the subject Joel Award 2020.

1. Coast Redwood (Sequoia sempervirens), 117 Elizabeth. Topping the list for the first year in a row! Read about this amazing tree at <http://bit.ly/39mLXgY>.

30 Years of Theatre Night

By Aimee Franz and Kathleen Busko • kathleenbusko@hotmail.com

A show at the Variety Playhouse, a scrumptious dinner at BoccaLupo, and Festival Theatre Night. Hmmm, what do these events have in common?

They are unique Inman Park experiences! So, if you haven't been, don't miss out this year, the 30th anniversary of this treasured event.

It was 1990 and the idea of including our local theatres in Festival had been percolating in Bill McMurry's mind. Bill thought about the empty tent on the Saturday night of Festival and knew his friend, Margie Veneziale, was on the board of the Horizon Theatre Company. Voila—Theatre Night was born! Neighbors Eileen Rhea Brown, George Veneziale, Jane Kourkoulis, Bobbie Paul, Susan Bridges, and Cathy Bradshaw are some who helped make Bill's vision a reality in the early days. Although Theatre Night has evolved over time, the goal of enjoying theatre performances while raising funds to support those theatres has remained constant.

So, if you haven't been, here's the 411: Buy a sponsorship or split one with your friends and neighbors (includes a table for six). Pack a picnic dinner. Perhaps bring a table cloth, flowers, and faux candles. Enjoy the performances. Participate in a live auction of unique Inman Park goods and experiences.

You'll watch vignettes from recent or upcoming shows by 7 Stages Theatre, Horizon Theatre Company, Dad's Garage Theatre, and Grady High School's Grady Drama. The actors, actresses, and theatre leadership volunteer their Saturday night to make this happen.

Sponsorships go on sale in January and seating is limited. Thanks to our generous sponsors, thousands of dollars have been raised over the years! Some folks, inspired by the performances, make an additional donation that night!

If you cannot attend Theatre Night, why not make a donation in any amount. Sponsorships and donations are tax deductible to the extent allowed by law.

Please don't miss the opportunity to attend or contribute to Theatre Night. You can reach out to any of us on the committee: Aimee Franz, Leigh Hays, Cathy Bradshaw, Marie Wooldridge, Judy Clements, Helen Cunningham, Dave Darling, Nick Franz, Megan Holder, Dan Chandler and Kathleen Busko or email iptheatrenight@gmail.com. Happy Festival!

Festival Volunteer Sign-up Coming Soon!

Volunteer Sign-ups for our beloved festival will open in February. We need help from all of our neighbors and friends to make this event a success again. It's continued support from volunteers like Sally Dorn who has helped for many years by opening her home on the house tour seven times, participating on the festival committee, volunteering with the house tour committee, overseeing beer vendors, working with the children's festival area and overseeing non-profit booths. Sally continues to volunteer year after year because the Festival provides the money that allows our neighborhood to stand up for itself when necessary and take care of our needs and because Festival is the best event of the year and Inman Park is the best neighborhood around. We are so grateful for our neighbors who donate any amount of their time to support our neighborhood and continue to make this the best festival in Atlanta! Stay tuned for more details.

IPNA Meeting December 18, 2019

Minutes

President Beverly Miller called the IPNA meeting to order at 7:32 p.m.

Welcome and Introduction of Newcomers: None.

Police Officers' Reports

Sgt Soukup reported that they are increasing patrol hours again (in tandem with increased holiday activity) and reminded us again to always empty your car, to always call the police to report a crime (however small) and to share information when you have it; a video of even a theft from your porch may help solve multiple crimes in the 'hood.

Motion to approve November Meeting Minutes. Seconded. Approved.

Announcements

Al Caproni and Chris Curley [Little 5 Points Alliance] – Reported on the continued development of the “Euclid Avenue Project” (funded in part by ARC and T-SPLOST). They have hired a consultant from Lord Aeck Sargent. They encourage everyone to check out the new website (<https://l5pa.com/>), in particular pointing out that the donation portal is now live (<https://l5pa.com/show-love>). The L5P Alliance Board is looking for volunteers to populate committees on all issues.

Atlanta Beltline, Inc. Lynnette Reid and Nathan Soldat presented updates on the Master Plan; there are 10 neighborhoods involved but we are in Subarea 5 (O4W, PHI and IP): https://beltline.org/wp-content/uploads/2012/01/Atlanta-BeltLine\_Subarea-5\_MasterPlan.pdf 10 years into this overall project and it is time to update and refresh. Stakeholder Advisory Group has been meeting (4 public meetings, all info available online) and looked at future land use (parcels that are likely to be redeveloped). <https://beltline.org/organizer/atlanta-beltline-inc/>

IPNA Officers' Reports

VP Public Safety – Kevin Curry (absent) Atlanta Police Department Zone 6 Crime Prevention Inspectors Tillman and Word introduced themselves and presented a new Neighborhood Watch program called

Atlanta Police Citizens Academy. Jammie Tillman can be reached at 470-462-9026 JLTILLMAN@Atlantaga.gov

VP for Historic Preservation -- Sara Wittich Nothing to report VP for Planning – Rick Bizot presented an overview of the Hulsey Yards Master Plan, including explaining parts of the study available online: <https://hulseymasterplan.com/> and updating the status regarding the involvement of surrounding neighborhoods. The Committee met with Natalyn Archibong (District 5 representative on the Atlanta City Council), who would like all involved neighborhoods to officially vote to support the plan. Connectivity Q: Where will streets connect through to Inman Park besides at Krog and the MARTA station? A: The old connection between Delta Place and Chester Street in Reynoldstown is being explored. A 4-way stop is also planned for the intersection of Euclid and Delta Place, which should slow and make traffic safer in that area.

NPU – Neil Kinkopf (absent) Beverly Miller reported that a formal complaint against Vegan in the Park has been filed with the city, and will give an update for January.

VP for Zoning – Jonathan Miller Change of agent for liquor license - Bartaco (Jason Clarke) and Barcelona (Kenneth Perlman), represented by Mike Sarge requested a change of agent, based upon new ownership of the two restaurants (L Catterton purchased the franchise from Del Frisco). VP for Communication – Melissa Miller (with Advocator Editrix Carla Jeffries) reported that IPNA (having taken back the monthly newsletter to produce in-house) has sold $10,400 in advertisements so far (to local businesses) and hopes to keep selling to support our new version, which will produce its first issue in January 2020. If anyone knows a local business who would like to reach more than 2,200 homes (as many as 5k neighbors) and several hundred local businesses monthly at very reasonable rates, please send them to:

Festival Spotlight: Volunteer Memories

By Kristin Sandage • neechykat@yahoo.com

Festival 2007 was the first year I volunteered for Festival, and I was head of Security. I remember Pat Westrick approaching me about the opportunity to get involved. I had just moved into the neighborhood, and my only experience with Festival was the year before when I lived in Roswell and came down to see the parade. Since then I have been involved every year in various roles. Currently I am the Festival Treasurer.

One of my memories from back when I first started volunteering with Festival, I was walking behind two girls and listening to their conversation. They were complaining about all the people that were at Festival and felt that it was a neighborhood party just for Inman Parkers! Well, okay.

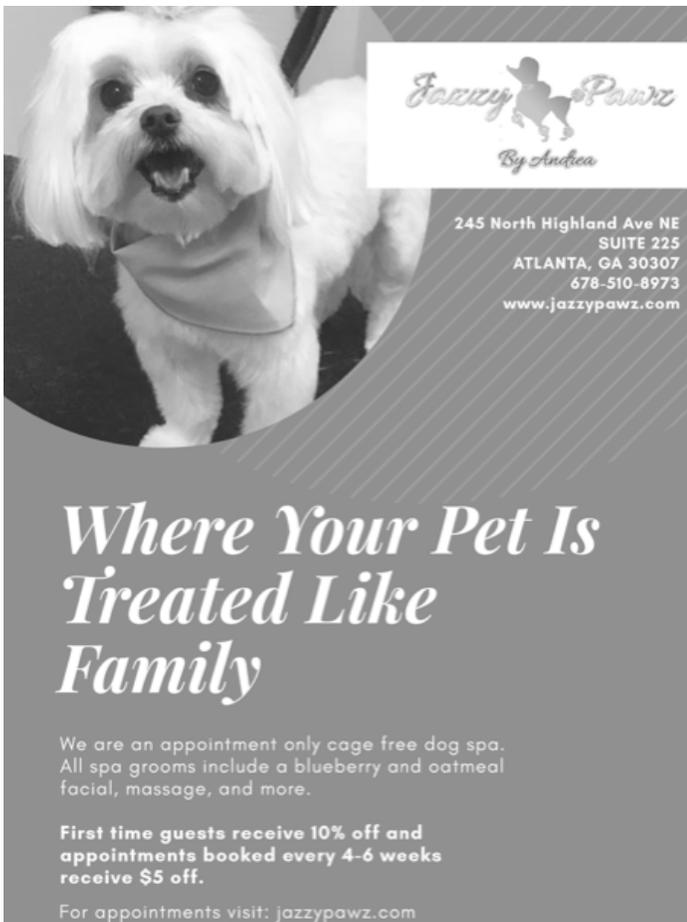

That's one way to look at it. However, if you go back to the origins of Festival, way back when Inman Park was not a desirable place to live, a handful of people invested in the old homes and wanted more people to do the same. In order to convince the realtors to show their clients Inman Park properties, the Tour of Homes was created to showcase the efforts and success stories of what was happening here. Additionally, bankers were invited to Butterfly Ball to show them the potential of Inman Park and to encourage them to lend money to perspective homeowners. Considering that Inman Park is one of the most desirable places to live in-town, I think that the original mission was accomplished!

What does Festival mean to me personally? To me, it is the connection of the community. It brings so many friends and neighbors together to create this amazing event. Every year as the committee gets closer to the last weekend in April, there seems to be so much to do. And every year everything comes together, and the magic just happens. I am so proud to be a part of this neighborhood and do my part to contribute to Festival. Oh yeah, I don't even live in the neighborhood anymore! I've said it many times and I'll say it again ... my physical address may not be in Inman Park, but my heart and soul are still here!

2020 Print IPNA Membership Directory

IPNA will be printing new membership directories early next year. If you want to be in the new directory, please go to inmanpark.org, login to check your profile and make sure all your information is correct. If you have a spouse/partner/significant other, make sure they are also a member of IPNA so they can be cross-referenced in the directory. If you have a spouse/partner/significant other listed under your profile but they have not joined individually, they cannot be cross-referenced. IPNA membership is by individual, not household, while security patrol membership is by household.

We encourage everyone to check out their profile and make any corrections. This makes the job of printing the directory much easier on the individuals who are facilitating this process. Also, ask your friends and neighbors to join. The more, the merrier!

Winter at Carter Center Freedom Farmer's Market

By Yr. Editrix • advocator@inmanpark.org

Winter at the Freedom Farmer's Market up at the Carter Center is a special time! If you've been skipping it lately because it just seems like a summery activity, let me give you a buncha good reasons to go! I'll copy Jim Abbot and make a New Year's style list:

- 1.) There are fewer people but somehow just as many cute dogs.
- 2.) La Calavera Bakery just started a booth there and they have a carrot-spelt loaf that is just out of this world.
- 3.) You think it's cold but by the time you've walked there you actually feel quite warm.
- 4.) Woodland Farms is turning out perfectly round, bright red radishes, emerald green broccoli, and butter-colored heads of cauliflower.
- 5.) You can then get some creamy, perfect goat cheese from Decimal Place Farms and spread it on toast made from that carrot-spelt bread (see #2) and top it with roasted broccoli (see #4).
- 6.) Franklin Citrus is bringing in gorgeous satsumas and other perfect citrus right now!
- 7.) Salmon guy is usually there once a month! He fishes with his pack of sons all summer in Alaska and then brings it to sell to us all winter. Not only is his fish spectacular and sustainable, he also presents an excellent model of what to do if you produce an excess of boy children.
- 8.) There's a sausage biscuit from Star Provisions that is worth any amount of walking in the cold.
- 9.) Here's what you do--you get ground chicken from Grateful Growers and make larb: cook it in a bit of vegetable oil with two minced garlic cloves, sliced scallions, a few chopped chilies, if you like them. Stir in a tablespoon each of soy sauce, fish sauce, sriracha, and brown sugar and cook until the texture is dry. You can grab butter lettuce or cabbage from Woodland Gardens while you're there--serve the larb piled on a platter surrounded by torn lettuce or cabbage leaves. You scoop it up on the leaves and put it directly in your mouth.
- 10.) Everyone has beets right now. Those can make a date with goat cheese (see #5) and greens or top an oil-roasted salmon filet (see #7) with them and some sliced citrus (see #6).
